Congratulations to our Teachers of the Week

Congratulations to Harry Haverkamp and Daniel Serrano! They were nominated for their extra work at football games, at Beta Club inductions, and around the community.

Congratulations to our Students of the Week

Our students were nominated by the Oviedo Women’s Club.

James Speer, Brandon New, Jacob Eisele, Nathaniel Morgan, Alana Guthrie, Santo Russotto, Thatcher Lamastus, and Hunter Haverkamp.

We at the Oviedo Women's Club are so very thankful for the wonderful help we have received from the Oviedo ROTC. Even with school being cancelled we still had Harry Haverkamp show up with a student volunteers Friday morning which we did not expect due to Tropical Storm Nicole that had just passed through.

We had to do so much Friday morning and the Oviedo ROTC was instrumental in helping us get set up on time for the vendors to come onto the field. We were truly amazed that we were able to get so much done. Everyone was pitching in so very well. I had such a wonderful time working with the students on this team and everyone had such kind words to say about all of their assistance.

Saturday we had some volunteering to help in parking, moving ice and chests, assisting pick up flags marking vendor spots and honestly they pitched in wherever there was a need.

Donna Stutin from our club was gushing about what a help they were to her during the Saturday tear down. Many of the ROTC group that volunteered were helping take down all of our tents, bagging them up, stacking tables and chairs which were all loaded up into the trailer and then unloaded into our shed at the clubhouse. We simply put could not have done this without their assistance. It truly was amazing. I really enjoyed working with Harry and all of the ROTC they are an exemplary group of young adults in the making.

Thank you kindly,
Lora Bryan

The defense came up with a big stop to get us the ball back with around 1:45 left. Jackson LaTour was 6-of-7 in the final minutes getting his team into scoring position. DJ Scott scored with Ryan Monroe catching the 2-point conversion to tie things up at 14-14 in the final seconds. In overtime, Wharton scored first to go up 21-14. Talon Cilento launched a throw right into the foot of Kosi Mafela to find the back of the net to level the score at 2-2. The second half was dominated by the Lions with Ager dropping in a great cross that resulted in an own goal, Maddox Brown earning a free kick at the left 30 that found Kosi wide open for the clean up shot, and the icing on the cake was Lorenzo cranking in a Penalty Kick on the day we celebrated him signing to play for Brown University.
